People with Healthy Discipleship ... pay attention to their Rhythm and Diet

Your Rhythm is the space you intentionally make to pray, read and reflect. It is the pattern of groups & gatherings you attend, as well as the larger cycles of special times away (e.g. Spring Harvest etc.) that you book yourself

Your Diet is the spread of things that give you input. Privately with reading, podcasts, etc., and with others through groups, events as well as our regular corporate worship together.
